

Dr. José María Ferri Coll

is professor of Spanish Literature at the University of Alicante. He has published several works about Spanish Literature of the Golden Age such as El tema de las ruinas en la poesía española del Siglo de Oro (Alicante, University, 1995); La poesía de la Academia de los Nocturnos (Alicante, University, 2001); etc. He is co-editor of the volume Parnaso de dos mundos. De literatura española e hispanoamericana en el Siglo de Oro (Frankfurt-Madrid, Iberoamericana). He has studied contemporary Spanish literature, especially Spanish poetry of the 19th and 20th centuries. He has been teaching Spanish literature and language to foreign students since 1992 and has been responsible for the formation of new teachers at the University of Alicante. Dr. Ferri also collaborates with the Instituto Cervantes and other Spanish institutions.